You may elect out of this withholding by checking the appropriate box below. Even if you elect not to have federal income tax withheld, you are liable for the payment of federal income tax on the taxable portion of your distribution. Penalties may be incurred under the estimated tax rules if your withholding and/or estimated tax payments are not sufficient. We urge you to seek competent professional tax advice. See next page of this form for additional Withholding Notice Information.

B. State Withholding

In other cases, state withholding is prohibited. While Scottrade makes every effort to obtain information about state tax laws from sources believed to be reliable, Scottrade cannot guarantee the accuracy or timeliness of state tax withholding information because state tax laws are subject to constant change and interpretation. We recommend you seek competent professional tax advice regarding your tax withholding elections. Refer to the State Tax Withholding Information Sheet for specific requirements regarding your state of residence.

IF YOU DO NOT MAKE AN ELECTION, SCOTTRADE WILL WITHHOLD AT THE MINIMUM RATE BASED ON THE REQUIREMENTS FOR YOUR STATE OF RESIDENCY.

Rules and Conditions Applicable to Withdrawal

GENERAL INFORMATION

You must complete all sections of this form for proper tax reporting. The term "IRA" will be used below to refer to Traditional IRAs, Rollover IRAs, SEP IRAs, SIMPLE IRAs and Roth IRAs unless otherwise specified.

The information on this form is provided as guidance and is not intended to be an exhaustive statement of IRA rules and regulations. Additionally, this form should not be relied upon as your only source of information. If you fail to meet any IRS requirements regulating IRA distributions, you may be subject to tax penalties. Professional tax and legal advice should always be obtained for your specific situation.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

- Monthly and Quarterly Systematic Distributions – If you take your distributions in systematic withdrawals, the tax withholding election you make now will apply until you change it by filling out a new SDIRA Distribution Request form. Written instructions are required to stop a Monthly or Quarterly Distribution.
- Distributions of Cash – If you are requesting tax to be withheld from a cash distribution, you must have sufficient funds available in cash to meet the amount or percentage you have elected to be withheld.
- Distributions of Securities - If you are requesting tax to be withheld from a security distribution, you must have sufficient funds available in cash to meet the amount or percentage you have elected to be withheld.
- Substantially Equal Periodic Payments – If you are taking Substantially Equal Periodic Payments, they will be reported in accordance with IRS regulations as EARLY DISTRIBUTION – NO KNOWN EXCEPTION APPLIES. If you qualify for an exception on a premature distribution, you must file form 5329 (used for paying and waiving penalties) with your tax return. Consult your tax advisor when establishing or making changes to a Substantially Equal Periodic Payment Plan.
- Withdrawal of Excess Contribution – A return of excess contribution distribution is not required if you are correcting the excess contribution by redesignating the excess contribution to subsequent tax years until the excess is depleted. If you choose this option, do not complete this form. Consult your tax advisor for more information. You are required to file form 5329 with your tax return when correcting an excess.

DISTRIBUTION REASON

You are required to give the reason for taking a withdrawal from your IRA. If more than one reason applies, you must complete a separate Distribution Request form for each reason.

1. Normal Distribution – If you are an IRA holder age 59 ½ or older, you may take IRA distributions anytime without incurring an IRS early distribution penalty. In a Traditional IRA, if you are age 70 ½ or older, you are responsible for taking an annual Required Minimum Distribution (RMD) based on life expectancy. The IRS may impose a severe penalty for failure to take a minimum payment. If you are a Roth IRA holder age 59 ½ or older and you otherwise qualify, distributions are not included in your gross income. Roth IRA holders are not subject to Required Minimum Distributions. Normal distributions are reported on the 1099R as code 7 for Traditional IRAs and code T for Roth IRAs.
2. Premature Distribution – If you are an IRA holder under age 59 ½, withdrawals will generally be considered early distributions. Unless an exception to the penalty applies, you must pay the appropriate penalty tax to the IRS. There are tax implications of taking a premature distribution, i.e., a 10 percent penalty tax on the amount distributed in addition to the inclusion of the amount in your regular income of the year you receive the distribution. Premature distributions are reported to the IRS as code 1, even if you take an exemption. You must file IRS Form 5329 to claim an exemption. Consult your tax advisor for a list of the penalty exceptions. All earnings received from a Roth IRA must be included in your gross income unless the distribution is qualified or rolled back into a Roth IRA. A premature distribution from a Roth IRA is reported on the 1099R as code J.
3. Early Distribution from a SIMPLE IRA, No Known Exception (Code S) – Use for a distribution from a SIMPLE IRA taken within two years of the date the first contribution was made if the taxpayer has not reached age 59 ½ and none of the exceptions under Section 72(t) apply.
4. Disability Distribution – If you are an IRA holder under age 59 ½, you may take a distribution due to disability. The disability must render you unable to engage in any substantial gainful activity and it must be medically determined that the condition will result in a long, continued and indefinite duration or will lead to your death. Disability distributions are reported as code 3 on the 1099R.
5. Revocation– IRA holders may revoke an IRA within seven days of opening the account. If revoked, you are entitled to a full return of the contribution made. Generally, a revoked IRA distribution will be reported on the 1099R as code 8.

REQUIRED MINIMUM DISTRIBUTIONS

You must take a Required Minimum Distribution (RMD) from your Traditional IRA or SIMPLE IRA by April 1 of the year following the year you attain age 70 ½ (Required Beginning Date - RBD) for your 70 ½ year and by Dec. 31 of the end of that year and by Dec. 31 of each year thereafter. Note that if you elect to defer your first-year RMD, you will be required to withdraw two Required Minimum Distributions the next year. A 50% penalty tax may apply if you fail to take a timely RMD. Required Minimum Distributions do not apply to Roth IRAs.

WITHHOLDING NOTICE INFORMATION (FORM W-4P/OMB No. 1545-0074)

Basic Information About Withholding From Pension and Annuities

Generally, federal income tax withholding applies to payments made from pension, profit sharing, stock bonus, annuity, and certain deferred compensation plans, IRAs, and commercial annuities.

Purpose of Form W-4P

Unless you elect otherwise, federal income tax will be withheld from payments from Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs). You can use Form W-4P, or a substitute form, such as that contained on this form, furnished by the Trustee or Custodian, to instruct your trustee or custodian to withhold no tax from your IRA payments (or to revoke this election). This substitute form should be used only for distributions from IRAs which are payable on demand.

Nonperiodic Payments

Payments from IRAs that are payable upon demand are treated as nonperiodic payments for federal income tax purposes. Generally, nonperiodic payments must have income tax withheld at a rate of not less than 10%.

You can elect to have no income tax withheld from a nonperiodic payment (IRA payment) by filing Form W-4P or a substitute form with the Trustee or Custodian and checking the appropriate box on that form. Your election will remain in effect for any subsequent distribution unless you change or revoke it.

A U.S. citizen or resident alien may not waive withholding on any distribution delivered outside of the U.S. or its possessions. Distributions to a nonresident alien are generally subject to a tax withholding rate of 30%. A reduced withholding rate, including exemption, may apply if there is a tax treaty between the nonresident alien's country of residence and the United States, and the nonresident alien submits Form W8-BEN, Certificate of Foreign Status of Beneficial Owner for United States Tax Withholding, or satisfies the documentation requirements as provided under the regulations.

For more information, please see Publication 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax, and Publication 515, Withholding of Tax on Nonresident Aliens and Foreign Entities, available from most IRS offices.

Caution: Remember that there are penalties for not paying enough tax during the year, through either withholding or estimated tax payment. New retirees should see Publication 505. It explains the estimated tax requirements and penalties in detail. You may be able to avoid quarterly estimated tax payments by having enough tax withheld from your IRA using Form W-4P.

Revoking the Exemption from Withholding

If you want to revoke your previously filed exemption from withholding, file another Form W-4P with the trustee or custodian and check the appropriate box on that form.

Statement of Income Tax Withheld from Your IRA

By January 31 of next year, you will receive Form 1099R showing the total amount of your IRA withdrawals and the total federal/state income tax withheld during the year. Copies of Form W-4P will not be sent to the IRS.

Signature

Your signature is required to certify that the information you have provided is true and correct and that you are aware of all the circumstances affecting this IRA withdrawal.
